FREAKS OF FASHION.

The Latest Orders of the Tyrant.

DEVELOPMENT OF FANCY IN THE HOSIERY BUSINESS-ADVICE TO LADIES WITH STOUT FEET-THE STRIPES AND COLORS hair is compactly arranged in a small plaited OF THE STOCKINGS OF THE SEASON-THE SLIPPERS, AND TIES-RIDING-HABITS-HOW THEY ARE MADE AND WORN-MILI-TARY BRAID FOR EQUESTRIENNES' DRESSES.

The development of fancy in no article pertaining to the wardrobe has been more amusing or interesting than in stockings. For a time pure white was considered the only really genteel hosiery. The first remarkable departure from this idea, which nesday night. seemed likely to assume a conventional form or character, was in toleration of the soft, beautiful, unbleached tint usually seen and appearing earliest in the Balbriggan stockings. From the Balbriggan the Lady's Journal for June says the first deviation of refined taste was in the hair-striped stockand across the foot. From the hair-striped, which obtained for awhile questionable favor, the stripes became broader and more definite, until they reached an inch . or more in width, and were varied by mixed and graduated striping. Varying the fashion of striping around the leg, at length lengthwise stripes became fashionable; and that some suggestion will shortly come from now all manner of stripes are seen-the fantastic ruling the mode more decidedly in their minds. Anyhow, the Conservatives stockings than anything belonging to the wardrobe. The selection is according to apathy or dissatisfaction of the other side. taste or as may best suit the shape. Ladies with our large registered majority it is cerwith stout feet generally prefer stripes run- tain that victory over the enemy will be ning up and down, while those with slender feet can afford to wear crosswise striped hose; and great latitude in choice is indulged in.

IN SILK AND LISLE-THREAD

tockings there are very attractive combinations of the most delicate shades of colers. For instance, we see pale drab, stone, pearl, and lavender, alternating in stripes of from half an inch to an inch in width with rose- lowing delegates and alternates were elected color and blue; brown is also a favorite al- to the Convention to meet in Richmond: ternating color in the striping, and a return | Henry district: Delegates, General George to first principles is seen in the pale drab, Ecru, and pearl-colored sits, Lisle-thread and nates, R. Stockings of this description are woven plain with open clocking, or are ribbed.

THE LATEST FREAK of fashion, however, in hese is called la jardinière. It consists of stockings of a plain ground, either white, ecru, pale blue, pink drab, fawn, brown; or black, wrought floral pattern of embroidery, gay-colored sprigs, or bouquets, or garlands. Or the instep and front of the ankle are plain, and the line of the usual clocking is defined by a parti-colored garland in silk embroidery.

Both silk and Lisle-thread stockings are finished in this manner.

ing, striping, and sprigging. FOR MISPLAY of the elegant fancy hosiery above noticed of course low-quartered shoes must be worn. We have them again, bearing the wellknown names of the "Oxford," the "Newport," and the "Croquet" ties-a little difference in the cut of each giving the distinctive name to the variety. The grand Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia, presenting cases of the work of some of our best cordonniers, will exhibit wonderful resources in applique, inlaying, and other fancies, accomplished by skill in shitching and other ingenuity that enters into the manufacture of shoes.
